Te Whare Wānanga o Otākou

2023-2024 Study Abroad and Exchange Guide

“A Sooty Shearwater with a stout heart, the Godwit flock rises as one.” The voice of welcome from the University of Otago calls out to you, to take rest on this rich fertile land, on this coast of knowledge. As the first university in New Zealand, the University of Otago welcomes you all.

Whatever your dreams or aspirations, they can be realised here. Whether you want to pursue Humanities, Law, Sciences, Medicine or Business, there is a place for you here and a qualification to suit your specialty.

At the University of Otago we have the people to teach, guide and support you to fly to the mountain tops and beyond.

Welcome, welcome, welcome.

Tēnā koutou katoa

I am pleased to welcome you to Aotearoa New Zealand's first university.

At Otago, you will learn from academic staff who are dedicated to teaching and internationally recognised for their research. They frequently collaborate with experts in other countries and a large proportion of our research impacts local and global issues.

Importantly, you will have the opportunity to define yourself and choose your own direction in life. Tens of thousands of our graduates now live around the globe, contributing to law, health, science, business, education, research and politics. Many of New Zealand's most renowned artists, novelists, poets and leaders also started out at Otago.

I hope you enjoy your experience here and make the most of the many extracurricular and co-curricular opportunities on offer. The University of Otago is located in one of the most beautiful places in the world – please take time out to discover the beaches, the hills and the native flora and fauna that are right on our doorstep.

Beyond gaining a world-class teaching experience, I am also confident that you will make lifelong friends while you are here. After you leave, the University of Otago and the beautiful city of Dunedin will continue to occupy a special place in your life. I wish you all the very best.

New Zealand Aotearoa

Embracing visitors as whānau (family) underpins every aspect of our identity.

NEW ZEALAND is truly unique.

It is a safe and fun destination with friendly people, easy access to the outdoors, immersive experiences and rich culture.

It is also one of the least crowded countries in the world, with a physical size comparable to Japan or Great Britain and a population of only 4.9 million people affectionately known as "Kiwis".

The country is made up of two major islands – the North and South Islands – and a number of smaller islands, including Stewart Island.

Approximately two thirds of the population lives in the North Island. Auckland has more than 1.4 million people, followed by the capital city Wellington and Christchurch (which each have about 400,000). Dunedin's population is around 130,000.

Māori were the first inhabitants of New Zealand Aotearoa across Te Ika a Maui (the North Island) and Te Waipounamu (the South Island).

According to Māori, Kupe ventured from the Polynesian homeland of Hawaiiki to New Zealand on a waka hourua (voyaging canoe) around 1,000 years ago, navigating by the stars and ocean currents. Several waka hourua arrived across the country over hundreds of years, and Māori established themselves as the first inhabitants and caretakers of the land.

Dutch explorer Abel Tasman was the first European to discover New Zealand, in 1642. English navigator James Cook mapped the country in 1769–70. Later, sealers, whalers and traders arrived and the following two centuries saw waves of European settlement.

Today the country is diverse and multicultural, enhanced by the growing number of people from the Pacific and Asia who have made New Zealand their home in recent years.

Kiwis have a reputation for being resourceful and innovative. New Zealand's urban centres are full of cafes, restaurants, arts, industry and fashion. Farming remains the country's major export industry, and there is a growing focus on ecotourism ventures, the wine industry, fashion design and a flourishing film industry that is gaining international recognition.

New Zealand is renowned for its spectacular landscapes – from dramatic mountain ranges and steaming volcanoes, to sandy swimming beaches and wild and rugged coastlines.

The South Island has some of the world's most picturesque scenery. Beaches, glaciers, lakes and fiords, and mountains with world-class ski resorts are all easily accessible from your base in Dunedin.

Dunedin

Known as the gateway to the lower South Island, basing yourself in Dunedin allows for a comparably affordable way for you to access many of New Zealand’s world-renowned destinations of great natural beauty, and enjoy adventure activities.

2

Queenstown, Arrowtown and Wanaka

3.5 hours’ drive.

Queenstown, the birthplace of bungy, is known as the adventure sports capital of the world. The stunningly beautiful gorges and lakeside environment provide the perfect setting for skydiving, canyon swinging, jet boating and white-water rafting. This is also the Southern Hemisphere’s top ski resort area and has great nightlife once the sun goes down.

1.5 hours’ drive.

The Catlins is an area of great contrasts and natural beauty – from magnificent coastal cliffs and long sweeping beaches, to rainforests, hidden waterfalls and rolling farmland.

Dunedin: New Zealand's student capital

OUR MORE THAN 21,000 STUDENTS make up one fifth of Dunedin's population, creating an energy and atmosphere that you'll only find at Otago.

The town and the University campus developed together, so Dunedin is one of just a handful of places worldwide where education is the main activity of the city.

Our campus and residential colleges are located in the heart of town, and all of Dunedin's cafés, music venues, designer boutiques and stores, museums and galleries are never more than a short walk away.

When it comes to sport, Otago takes on the best in the world. The University's facilities are state-of-the-art and Forsyth Barr Stadium, the world's first fully enclosed grassed stadium, hosts top-level sports matches and world-class concerts.

But that's just the beginning. Dunedin is a small city nestled between rural hillsides, the harbour and the ocean – meaning there's plenty to see and do.

Experience the distinctive beauty of each of Dunedin's four seasons. The temperate climate brings warm summers and mild winters with some frost and very occasional snowfalls.

No other city in the country has such a wide range of accessible leisure activities. Ride the waves at some 30 nearby beaches, take on excellent mountain biking tracks, paddle-board, kayak or sail on the harbour, or head to Central Otago for a weekend at New Zealand's top ski fields.

Imagine changing out of your wetsuit then pedalling into the city centre for lunch, or snowboarding all day and getting home in time to catch a gig at your favourite music venue. It's just part of life in Dunedin.

City and campus

Although Dunedin is surrounded by hills, most of the central city and north and south Dunedin is generally flat and easily accessible. Unlike larger cities, you don't need a car to get around in Dunedin. It's a 10-minute walk from the campus, residential colleges and student flats into the centre of town, and there is a good public transport system covering all of the main suburbs.

“When I decided to go to Otago University I showed my friends and family a picture of the Clocktower Building and told them that I was going to study at Hogwarts. So far the magic of this place has been without compare. I am amazed that I can study with the view of evergreen mountains and 20 minutes later be surfing on a beach with sea lions and penguins in the water. The Kiwis are very sweet and caring people and I think that culture is already changing me for the better. I am looking forward to many more adventures here.”

Accommodation

FLATTING is an important part of the university lifestyle; it offers responsibility, freedom, and the chance to live and mix with “Kiwi” students.

University-managed flats and houses

The majority of study abroad and exchange students stay in rented accommodation which they share with other students. In New Zealand we call this “flatting”. The University Flats (UniFlats) are houses or apartments with three to six students that are totally integrated into the local students’ neighbourhoods and all within 10 minutes’ walking distance of campus. This provides a unique opportunity to live the local student lifestyle, and most have a New Zealand “Kiwi Host” student.

The University Flats (UniFlats) are fully furnished with shared common spaces. Each student has their own room with desk, chair, drawers, double bed and linen provided. Internet and electricity are included in the rent, however food and cooking are the responsibility of the students in the flat.

otago.ac.nz/uniflats

otago.ac.nz/accommodation/apply-for-accommodation

Alternative accommodation

University Flats provide the best living experience for study abroad and exchange students, however in some cases students may wish to live with a local family (homestay). If you would like further information about homestays, please contact the University of Otago Pathway and English Language Centre.

otago.ac.nz/uolcfy

Temporary accommodation

If you plan to arrive before your permanent accommodation is available, it is important that you organise temporary accommodation in advance for when you first arrive in Dunedin.

The Student Accommodation Centre provides a list of options including backpackers, “bed and breakfasts” and motels that are close to the University.

UniFlats

Student housing: unique to Otago

LIVING IN A UNIFLAT PROVIDES an opportunity to learn about the New Zealand way of life in a range of housing options from one to six bedroom flats. The majority of flats are mixed gender (i.e. co-ed). All of our flats are furnished. Students have their own bedroom but share kitchen, living, bathroom and laundry facilities. There is a weekly fee set each year that includes the room cost, electricity, internet, community events and the services of the UniFlats Team.

otago.ac.nz/uniflats

Our community

In New Zealand, a shared house is often called a “flat” and the University of Otago owns and manages a number of these. UniFlats are the best option for those who seek more independence than a college offers, and are popular for students who are only here for 6 months such as Study Abroad and Exchange students. Flats are also available for postgraduate students – both individual and those with partners/families. The flats are fully furnished and within easy walking distance of campus.

Kiwi hosts

In order to assist international students in settling into life at the Otago, UniFlats house New Zealand students (also known as “Kiwi hosts”) who live in flats with international students. Kiwi hosts are able to share their local knowledge of Dunedin City, and the University campus and environs with their flatmates.

Support team

The UniFlats community is enhanced through a variety of events and functions eg: sports teams (volleyball, basketball, soccer, and rowing). There is also participation in athletic days, swimming competitions, and an intercollege music competition. UniFlats run a variety of cultural events such as museum and marae (Māori meeting house) visits, and a series of dinners for students.

Sustainability

University Flats is committed to supporting sustainability. We have representatives from both our Property and Community Support team who work with other staff and students to make sustainable choices wherever possible. University Flats is pleased to be participating in the University’s Green Impact programme.

Applying for a flat

You can apply for accommodation in a University Flat through eVision. Once in eVision on the right hand side of the “My Details” box there is a link “Residential College and UniFlats”. Simply click on this link and follow the instructions, sent via email, to register and complete your application.

You should submit your application by 1 November of the preceding year for a February start, or by 15 May for a July start.

Student support

OUR TOP-QUALITY EDUCATION AND FACILITIES are matched by our range of student support services, dedicated to helping you get the very best out of your time at Otago.

International Office

The International Office provides information, support and advice to future and current international students and to students wishing to study overseas on exchange programmes. It runs on-campus orientation programmes for new international students including a wide variety of events to assist you in adjusting to life at Otago. It offers assistance with visa enquiries, insurance, and US Financial Aid. All enquiries from prospective international students about application and admission should be directed to the International Office.

AskOtago

AskOtago is your one-stop shop for all questions about studying at Otago. You can find answers instantly with our searchable knowledgebase, or call, email or chat with us. If you're on our Dunedin campus, you can also find us at our hub in the Information Services Building.

Otago University Students' Association (OUSA)

OUSA is an independent organisation that represents students' interests within the University, in the media, and with local and national government.

OUSA can help you with lost property, tickets to gigs, answering your questions and much more. The Student Support Centre offers a friendly and confidential advisory service to help make your student experience as trouble-free as possible. It's all free, so if you need a bit of help, a mediator, or some friendly advice OUSA can help you.

OUSA also owns Radio One 91FM, Dunedin's finest independent radio station, and student magazine The Critic.

ousa.org.nz

Student Health Services

Student Health is located on campus in a purpose-built facility. They have approximately 55 staff, comprising nurses, general practitioners, counsellors, psychiatrists and administrative staff.

They endeavour to provide the best health care possible in a manner that is competent, compassionate, confidential, timely, and in an atmosphere of mutual responsibility and respect.

They provide daily urgent and routine appointments to all international students. Different consultation fees may apply for international students and most international students are not entitled to publicly-funded health services while in New Zealand. Full details on entitlements to publicly-funded health services are available through the Ministry of Health.

otago.ac.nz/studenthealthhealth.govt.nz

Career Development Centre

The Career Development Centre runs workshops, co-ordinates employer presentations and career fairs, has a range of career information for students, and has career advisers available for one-to-one discussions.

otago.ac.nz/careers

Disability Information and Support Centre (DI&S)

DI&S provides learning support, advice, advocacy and information to international students with disabilities, impairments, medical conditions or injuries that may impact on their study. It is important that you check in advance to ensure that the University is able to meet your specific requirements.

otago.ac.nz/disabilities

Libraries

The University of Otago libraries offer an outstanding range of information services, quality resources, wi-fi and warm comfortable facilities suitable for individual or group learning. Whether you are studying on or off campus, enjoy access to a wide variety of print, electronic and audio-visual resources. Make the most of readily available expert assistance with sourcing and evaluating library resources and developing your search skills from friendly, knowledgeable staff.

otago.ac.nz/library

Chaplains

The University chaplaincy team is available to offer pastoral care and spiritual support to anyone who wants to talk in confidence, whatever their beliefs.

otago.ac.nz/chaplain

Computer Services

Otago provides a range of IT services to students: 24-hour wireless study spaces with printers and computers, student webmail and online Office 365, and a student desktop that's accessible anywhere. Our friendly Student IT support team provide help, advice and training. Student IT offer free, short training sessions while ITS Training provides subsidised longer courses on all the software you'll require for your courses.

otago.ac.nz/studentit

Student Learning Development

Student Learning Development offers a free service for enrolled students. Assistance includes interactive workshops, individual consultations with learning advisers, and peer learning and support programmes. The Peer Leadership Programme offers students opportunities to develop leadership skills through a range of workshops, activities and online study resources.

otago.ac.nz/sld

Recreation at Otago

UNIPOL RECREATION SERVICES AND THE OUSA CLUBS AND SOCIETIES TEAM provide a comprehensive programme to ensure students maintain a healthy, balanced and fun lifestyle while studying at Otago. With many recreational opportunities on and off campus there really is something for everyone!

otago.ac.nz/recreation

Unipol

Unipol is a fantastic facility that includes weight training and cardio rooms, and team sports areas where students and their friends can participate in casual sports such as basketball, table tennis and more. Entry is free with a current student ID card.

Gear for fun

Get active and have fun with Unipol's quality recreation equipment that can be hired at affordable prices, all year round. From the beach to the mountains, they have your outdoor activities covered.

OUSA Clubs and Societies

The OUSA recreation programme offers over 150 sporting, cultural, political and religious clubs and societies, which are all 100 per cent student-led. The programme includes arts and craft, dance, exercise, health and sport, music and singing, languages, food and beverage, and everything and anything in between.

Get outdoors: University approved recreation providers

Get in touch with your inner explorer. Venture beyond campus and experience the natural beauty that Dunedin has to offer with a variety of outdoor adventures from local university approved recreation providers. Be sure to use your valid ID card to get student discounts.

Get involved

OTAGO OFFERS STUDENTS many ways to become socially and environmentally responsible global citizens. Getting involved in social projects has many benefits: you'll be contributing to positive change in the community, while at the same time gaining valuable work experience and strengthening your future career prospects. International research shows that these kinds of activities are the best predictors of success following graduation, and many employers now rate voluntary work alongside internships.

Clubs and societies

Otago students can also focus on social responsibility through clubs and societies such as Rotoract, the youth division of Rotary International; O-Red, the student group associated with Red Cross; and the Dunedin Wildlife Hospital Students' Association.

ousa.org.nz/recreation

Social Impact Studio

Otago students care about social issues. Our student-led Social Impact Studio provides a range of volunteering opportunities and leadership programmes that allow students to channel their creativity, vision and insight into projects that have maximum social impact. Opportunities include: mentoring young people, helping in the community, contributing to well-being initiatives, empowering young learners through literacy programmes and taking part in global citizenship programmes.

Study options

Otago offers degrees in environmental science, social science and sustainable business. The flexibility of an Otago qualification means that most students can also complement their degrees with elective papers in areas of environmental or social interest in order to learn more about their place in the world.

Research

The University of Otago has a number of highly regarded interdisciplinary and cross disciplinary research groups, centres and clusters concerned with the environment and sustainability issues. Topics vary from the fields of agriculture, climate science and planning, to urban design and law.

University of Otago Centre for Sustainability

The Centre for Sustainability is an interdisciplinary research centre working on local and global sustainability challenges.

“Doing good looks different these days. I believe that our student community is a powerhouse of vision, energy and creativity. I say we get out of their way and let them get stuck into being the difference they want to see in their world.”

SOCIAL IMPACT STUDIO MANAGER

University terminology

Assessment

Papers are assessed in a variety of ways. Examinations (finals) are usually the most important and most papers have a three-hour examination at the end of each semester. Many subjects also have shorter tests during the year, and written assignments and laboratory work often count towards your final grade.

Bachelor's degrees

New Zealand universities generally offer a three-year undergraduate bachelor's degree – the subject you choose to specialise in is called your major. The major subject is generally studied in every year of the course, with the third year increasing in difficulty and specialisation.

Certificate of Proficiency

A Certificate of Proficiency (COP) is the course you will need to select in eVision when applying for your study abroad semester. These are approved papers that in many cases will transfer credits back to your home institution.

Flatting

Several people (usually between 3 and 7) live in a house together sharing kitchen, bathroom, laundry and living areas, along with each having their own separate bedroom. Living in a flat is the quintessential Otago experience, allowing students to manage their own living arrangements, and helping them to develop the independence for which Otago graduates are renowned.

Papers

The building blocks of the degree are called papers. A paper is a fixed amount of work in certain aspects of a subject at a particular level. Choosing the right papers is generally done in conjunction with a Study Abroad/Exchange adviser from your home university.

Introductory papers are called 100-level papers, and you move on in subsequent years or semesters to 200-level and 300-level papers. Usually students take a mixture of 100, 200 and 300-level papers in their semester at Otago. Papers beyond 300-level are normally postgraduate papers and require an advanced background.

Otago offers a range of papers with a uniquely New Zealand or Pacific focus. This is a great way to incorporate formal learning about the culture, society, natural and physical environment of New Zealand into the Study Abroad/Exchange experience.

Prerequisites and corequisites

Most papers beyond 100-level have prerequisites, however if you have the equivalent background you may be permitted to enrol subject to departmental approval.

Semesters

The University operates two semesters per year. Some papers are completed in a single semester (i.e. a half year, either first or second semester), while others run for the whole year. Some single-semester papers are offered in each semester, while others occur only once a year.

Summer School

The University offers a Summer School from early January to mid-February each year. This gives students the opportunity to study one or two papers for credit over a shorter teaching period and outside the standard semester timetable.

otago.ac.nz/summerschool

Teaching

The basic method of presenting subject information at university is the lecture, although many departments use a variety of other approaches. Lectures normally last 50 minutes and are a straightforward means of introducing new knowledge. You must back lectures up with your own wide reading. You will have essays and assignments, and may take part in laboratories or tutorials where more individual attention is available. You may also find you are in regular contact with tutors, other academic staff and other students.

Workload

Most papers are single semester papers and are worth 18 points. A full-time course is generally 54-72 points in any one semester (three to four papers). As an approximate guide, you can expect to spend about 12 hours per week for each single-semester paper (18 points). These hours are made up of a combination of lectures, tutorials, laboratories, assignments and reading.

18 Otago points are worth approximately 9 ECTS and 3-5 US credits.

Discover Aotearoa and the Pacific

MANY OF THE EXCITING AND REWARDING experiences you will have while studying and living overseas will come from engaging with people from other cultures, and seeing environments that are unlike your own.

At Otago we want you to make the most of your time with us and we offer a range of papers that allow you to fully immerse yourself in all that is New Zealand.

We believe that learning not only happens in our lecture theatres and laboratories, but also in real time, in the real world. This 'hands-on' style of learning will take you outside the classroom and into our beautiful country.

We offer field trips to remote areas where you can explore the geological features and processes that shaped Aotearoa New Zealand, learn about the creatures that inhabit our shores, and step aboard our RV Polaris II research ship for a no-holds-barred experience in oceanographic research examining the depths of the Pacific Ocean and the ecology of its marine life and ecosystems.

Discover what makes Central Otago wine so appealing with a paper dedicated to New Zealand's wine industry, or gain valuable cultural and social insights from papers on New Zealand literature and film.

You will also have a unique opportunity to develop an appreciation of the richness of the indigenous peoples and cultures of the Pacific, through papers on te ao Māori (the Māori world) and traditional and contemporary Pacific societies.

QS WORLD UNIVERSITY RANKINGS (2022)

Humanities' leading position in research excellence in New Zealand is confirmed by the Government's research quality assessment.

PBRF RANKINGS

Otago Humanities lecturers are regular recipients of National Teaching Awards.

Health Sciences

NEW ZEALAND'S FIRST SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

The University of Otago has a strong reputation for excellence in the areas of human health and medical science, stemming from the establishment of New Zealand's first school of medicine in 1877.

Opportunities for pre-med students

The University of Otago is the only New Zealand university to offer programmes in Dentistry, and one of only two to offer degrees in Pharmacy and Medicine.

The University of Otago recognises the particular needs of students pursuing pre-professional studies for Medicine at their home universities. Otago offers a selection of papers that will add an international perspective to complement pre-professional education.

Sciences

OTAGO IS RECOGNISED AS A PREMIER LOCATION FOR SCIENCE STUDY

The Division of Sciences has research and teaching strengths in fundamental and applied sciences, in human performance and health, and in environmental science. We offer a number of disciplines that are unique to Otago. Studying science at Otago gives you the opportunity to participate and learn in an environment where cutting-edge research projects are underway all the time. It's an environment that has earned us our international reputation.

We have world-leading researchers and teachers, as well as unique field sites for environmental sciences. Our research and teaching facilities are state-of-the-art, but you can't beat having the deep ocean as your lab, or classes taught under the trees of one of the world's most beautiful campuses.

How to apply – Study Abroad

Application deadlines

You can start your study at the beginning of semester 1 (February to June), semester 2 (July to November), or Summer School (January to February).

The deadlines for applications are:	Semester 1:	1 December
	Semester 2:	30 April
	Summer School:	31 October

Application process

CHECK THE ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Academic Eligibility

To be eligible for Study Abroad, you usually must:

- Be currently enrolled and have completed at least one semester of study at an accredited institution.
- Have a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 minimum on a 4-point scale, or have a “credit”, “good”, or above average results.

Students who do not meet these criteria but wish to study abroad for one or two semesters are welcome to make an application and your individual eligibility will be considered.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

If English is not your first language you must provide evidence of English language proficiency in one of the following:

IELTS

6.0 in the academic module (with no individual band below 5.5)

Internet-based TOEFL

Score of 80 (minimum writing score of 20)

Germany

B2 or higher in each of the three components of the DAAD language test

Denmark

Minimum GPA of 6 in A-level English; or a minimum GPA of 9 in B-level English when graduating from Upper Secondary School.

SUBMIT YOUR APPLICATION ONLINE

Go online to complete an application:

Study Abroad otago.ac.nz/study-abroad

The University operates an online application and enrolment system called eVision that allows you to apply online and supply relevant documentation as part of the process. It is a two-step process with portal set up usually happening within 24-48 hours.

otago.ac.nz/study/enrolment/applying.html

Documents required

You will be required to supply the following as part of the online application process:

- Copy of passport.
- Original or certified copies of academic transcripts of all previous tertiary level studies undertaken.
- Evidence of English language proficiency if required.

All documents must be certified/notarised by an authorised authority such as a registrar, notary public, justice of the peace, or attorney. The University will also accept documents certified/notarised by staff of Study Abroad offices

OFFER OF PLACE

All applications will be acknowledged and assessed for eligibility.

otago.ac.nz/international/internationalprearrivalinfo.html

SELECT YOUR PAPERS

Once an offer has been made and you have accepted, papers can be selected online through your student portal.

Please check with your home institution what your workload requirements are. A maximum workload is four papers in one semester at Otago.

You are not normally permitted to take papers from Dentistry, Medicine, Medical Laboratory Science, Pharmacy and Physiotherapy degree schedules.

Check the subjects and papers section of the University website to ensure the papers you wish to take are offered in the semester you plan to study at Otago.

otago.ac.nz/subjects

For any papers above 100-level, or that require Otago prerequisites, you will need to apply for Special Permission within eVision.

otago.ac.nz/study/enrolment/SP-DP.html

APPLY FOR ACCOMMODATION VIA EVISION

In your eVision account, click the “Residential College and UniFlats” link on the right hand side of the “My Details” box.

Follow the instructions and you will be sent an email to register and complete your application. Be sure to check your junk mail for this notification.

In order to help us find the best flat for you, please provide accurate information on your application form.

First semester applications open 1 August

Second semester applications open 1 April

PRE-DEPARTURE CHECK LIST

Before you come to Otago have a look at our pre-departure check list, just to make sure you have everything in order.

JOE GYDE, UNITED KINGDOM

EXCHANGE STUDENT

"My exchange experience at Otago and in New Zealand was incredible! I was there for a year and in my first semester there I was flatting with a group of Australians from Melbourne and Perth. We went on road trips and they taught me how to snowboard. The second semester, I was flatting with all Kiwis who introduced me to their own friend groups, and everyone was very welcoming. There is a sense of community in Dunedin, which I found different to my university at home. The friends you make on exchange will definitely be friends for life."
